WEALTHY VESTRYMAN IS SLAIN IN CHURCH BY QUEER WANDERER

Dr. James Markoe, Well-Known Surgeon and Member of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, Shot Down in Aisle Sunday Morning.

ASSAILANT IS AN ESCAPED HOSPITAL INMATE

Three Mysterious Shootings on New York's East Side During Past 24 Hours, Apparently Work of an Unidentified Sniper, Meanwhile Puzzle Police

New York, April 18. — Dr. James Markoe, a well known surgeon, was shot and killed today while taking up to offering at the morning service in the fashionable St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, 16th street and Stuyvesant place, in the old aristocratic district of New York.

His assailant was captured after a short chase by a group of parishioners headed by William Fellows Morgan, president of the Merchants' association of New York; Dr. George E. Brewer and J. Morgan Jones. At the East 22nd street police station the prisoner gave his name first as Thomas W. Shelly and later as Thomas W. Simkin. The police said he told them he had escaped Thursday from the Eastern State hospital for the insane at Williamsburg, Virginia.

Dr. Markoe, a wealthy vestryman of the church, was a friend and personal physician of J. Pierpont Morgan, also a parishioner there. He was 56 years old.

Was Taking Morning Offering.

The church was crowded with parishioners, many of them representatives of the wealthiest families in New York, when the shooting took place. Dr. Markoe was walking down the left aisle taking up the collection, while the choir was singing an anthem. As he reached the twelfth pew from the rear and leaned over to pass the plate, Shelly, who was seated next to the aisle, whipped out a revolver and fired at the physician. The bullet struck him over the left eye and he collapsed in the aisle. Several women screamed and men rushed from their seats, some to the aid of the physician and others in pursuit of his assailant. Shelly, with the smoking revolver in his hand, stepped over the body of the physician and started to run out of the church. He was caught by Charles Safford, conductor, in an effort to quiet the congregation.

Shelly continued shooting. His second shot, directed at members of the congregation who were pursuing him, went wild. John C. Tiedman, the sexton, dropped to the floor in time to escape the third bullet, which grazed the back of J. Morgan Jones. Shelly then ran from the church into Stuyvesant square. Dr. Brewer was the first man to reach him. He grabbed the man's arm, but Shelly managed to wriggle loose long enough to fire another shot, which scraped Dr. Brewer's side. By that time several other members of the congregation had thrown Shelly to the ground and were holding him down when the policemen arrived, handcuffed the prisoner and took him to the police station.

Admits Shooting Dr. Markoe.

Meanwhile, Dr. Markoe had been carried out of the church and placed in an automobile. As he was being lifted into the car, he regained consciousness long enough to say: "I will be all right," and then collapsed. He was rushed to the Living in Hospital at 15th street and Second avenue, but was dead when brought into that institution.

In the church at the time were George W. Wickesham, former United States attorney general; Herbert L. Satterlee, brother-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan; and Mrs. Satterlee; R. Fulton Cutting, president of the Bureau of Municipal Research; and many other prominent persons. Mr. Morgan, who is a member of the church and whose father was a vestryman there, was not present when the shooting occurred.

Shelly freely admitted that he had shot Dr. Markoe, according to the police. "There are a lot more who are going to get it too," he is reported to have said when questioned by police detectives.

Search of a suitcase Shelly had dropped at the Pennsylvania terminal, revealed the police say, several radical papers and pamphlets. He also had a draft card showing he had registered, September 12, 1918, under the name of Thomas W. Simkin, 293 Fifth street, South City, Wisconsin. There were also several business cards reading "Thomas W. Simkin" and in the lower corner, "Representing St. George's Printing Paper" and "Knickerbocker Banner."

A letter addressed to him was found in the suit case, which had the address of 3113 Peabody street, Duluth, Minnesota. The police believe it was from his wife.

Shelly told the detectives he had seen the literature by a man named Miller, whose first name he could not remember.

"My memory is very bad," he said. "Are you an I. W. W.?" he was asked.

"No," he replied. "I am against the I. W. W. because they don't give credit to the trains of the country."

Shelly said one of the things he was often asked was that he had never seen Dr. Markoe before. He told a startling story of his movements covering the seven years he had spent in Canada and the United States.

He came to America from London, England, where he was born. He said he had been at St. George's church on a previous visit to New York on February 19, 1919. After arriving here this morning from Richmond, Va., he said, he breakfasted and went to the church.

Dr. James Wright Markoe was a widely known obstetrician. He was a son of the late Dr. Thomas Masters Markoe, a famous surgeon. The slain physician was born in New York city. In the same edifice in which he met death today, he was married 26 years ago to Miss Annette Wetmore. Many persons prominent in society attended that wedding.

Also noted philanthropist. In addition to the prominence achieved as family physician to the family of J. Pierpont Morgan, Dr. Markoe was noted for his philanthropies to the poor of New York. The Living in Hospital, first established on the lower East Side, was the result of his influence, and later he induced the elder Morgan to endow and erect a modern institution. The financier gave $1,000,000 to the charitable project. His son had maintained the hospital. Dr. Markoe was its attending surgeon and consulting head.

Dr. Markoe was physician to the elder Mr. Morgan until his death and continued to be the family physician. When J. P. Morgan Jr. was shot by Frank Holt, who later committed suicide, Dr. Markoe attended the financier and a few months afterward the surgeon performed an operation on Mr. Morgan for appendicitis.

Dr. Markoe received his early education at St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., and obtained his diploma from the college of Physicians and Surgeons here in 1885. He spent one year in research at Munich, Germany, taking a post graduate course, and returned to the United States as first house surgeon at the Sloane maternity hospital, New York. There he won a reputation as a gynecologist. He occupied a chair of medicine at the City College of New York up to the time of his death. He was associated with many state and city medical societies and was a member of the society for the relief of widows and orphans.

Deserted Canadian Army During War.

A widow and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Sargent, survive him.

Shelly later told the police he brought his wife and two children to Canada several years ago. He enlisted in the Canadian army and was about to sail overseas, he said, when he learned his wife had become a mother. He asked for a transfer to an organization stationed near his wife's home, but was refused as being "too valuable a man," he said.

"I figured," he explained, "that I was too good a man for the outfit to lose. I was too good for my wife to lose. I jumped the outfit and entered the United States and later brought my wife and children over."

About two years ago, he added, he escaped from the insane asylum at Fergus Falls, Minnesota, after three unsuccessful attempts. Six months later he went to Gary, Indiana, he said, and there bought a revolver which he has carried ever since and with which he did the shooting.

"They said there is a physical cause for every mental reaction," said Shelly. "I was tubercular and they cured me. Then I got cancer and I was operated on for that. So I guess these are the causes."

"The preacher in his sermon at the church," he continued, "told them to be good to strangers, but no one spoke to me and I resented it."

Reverend Dr. Karl, rector of St. George's, in part of his sermon had urged the wealthy congregation to befriend strangers and show Christian courtesies.

"We know very little of how lonely or oppressed someone sitting beside of us may be, and a kind word might carry cheer," he had said. The clergyman was prostrated after the tragedy.

REPORT NEW REVOLT INITIATED IN MEXICO

Governor of Michoacan, With State Treasury Funds, Flees to Mountains as Result

Mexico City, April 18. — A revolt in the state of Michoacan, engineered by General Pascual Ortiz Rubio, governor of the state, and a strong supporter of Lieutenant Colonel Alvarez Obregon, is announced in the government's second war bulletin issued early today. Governor Rubio, the bulletin states, has fled from Morelia, the state capital, with 100 men.

Accompanied by Major Jesus Millan, with a command of 50 men, General de la Torre, who came to the capital to confer with President Carranza, has been ordered to proceed immediately to Acambaro and report to General Bruno Nairo, who has been substituted in the Acambaro region for General Jose Loviano, sent to take charge of the Sonora campaign.

According to the bulletin, Governor Rubio has fled to the hills, taking with him the contents of the state treasury. It adds that General Nairo has arrived at Morelia to take charge of military operations there and that a detachment of state troops had left the capital for Acambaro to pursue the outlaw governor and reinforce the Morelia garrison.

While the revolt of pro-Obregon authorities in Michoacan had been expected, it was considered officially as a purely local uprising. The remainder of the state is reported to be quiet.

A dispatch to El Universal from its correspondent at Morelia claims that Colonel Obregon is in that town. It is stated that he is in open revolt. This is not confirmed officially, however.

The government stand with relation to Colonel Obregon is commented upon approvingly by its supporters, who declared that in allowing him a free hand instead of detaining him, which it would have been easy when he was here in the capital, the government has given him opportunity to show what his real political aims were.

HELEN HUGHES, 28, DAUGHTER OF JUSTICE HUGHES, IS DEAD

Glens Falls, April 18. — Helen Hughes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, died here today, after an illness of several months with influenza and pneumonia. She was 28 years old.

Miss Hughes was graduated by Vassar college in 1914 and then devoted herself to Y. W. C. A. work, first as a volunteer in Washington, D. C., and later as student secretary in the northeastern field. In the fall of 1915 she was at work in Boston for the united drive, and while there suffered from an attack of influenza, followed by pneumonia, from which she never recovered.

Arrangements for the funeral, which will be private, have not yet been completed.

TURKS FIGHT BACK FRENCH TROOPS LANDED AT MERSINA

Constantinople, Turkey, April 18. — A French cruiser landed three battalions of infantry, some batteries and cavalry at Mersina, Asia Minor, on April 14, according to an official communication issued by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the nationalist government. Armenian volunteers covered the landing, but, says the communication, were wiped out and the French were unable to advance further than the protection of their naval guns.

Thomas W. Shelly, who shot Dr. James Markoe in a New York church today, had been an inmate for some time of the Minnesota state insane asylum here, up to two years ago, when he made his escape. He was committed to the asylum from Duluth. His mind, it is believed, became affected through study of spiritualism. He had a wife and two children in Duluth, who returned to England after Simpson's commitment to the asylum.

Before he succeeded in escaping, which was accomplished by knocking bed clothing together and lowering himself from a third story window, he had made two attempts to get away, but on each occasion was recaptured.

Simpkin was not regarded as dangerous here, having a cheerful disposition. While here he claimed to be in communication with spirits and showed a religious tendency.

Mysterious Shootings Puzzle Police.

New York, April 18. — Three mysterious shootings on the East Side during the past 24 hours, all of them apparently the work of an unidentified sniper, tonight puzzled the police, who were without a clue to the identity of the slayer.

Charles Gagnio, 35, and Lasietto Orilla, 22, were each found in a living condition early today on the street of the lower east side.

Gagnio was found lying on the sidewalk in Goerck street with a bullet through his head, and Orilla was found in a similar condition on St. Mark's place. Both of them died without gaining consciousness.

Patrick Hayes, 32, was found lying on the street in First avenue, near 74th street. He was taken to a hospital where his condition is reported as serious.

BUSY WEEK AHEAD OF LEGISLATURE

Last Crack of Gavel for 1920 Session Will Be Heard Saturday Night

BONUS BILLS PENDING

Teachers Salaries, Daylight Saving and Liquor Legislation To Be Considered

Albany, April 18. — The legislature enters the final week of the 1920 session tomorrow. From the call to order tomorrow night until the last crack of the gavel, late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, the law-making machinery will be operated at top speed and the members of both houses will work overtime. The only break in the almost ceaseless grind of the week will come on Thursday evening, when all persons listed in the political "Who's Who" will lay aside the cares of statecraft and attend the annual dinner of the Legislative Correspondents' association, where they will see themselves portrayed as they appear to the news-writers assigned to the capitol.

The mass of unfinished business before the legislature includes the determination of several questions of public interest. Among these are salary increases for public school teachers, bonuses for state veterans of the World war, anti-sedition measures and bills designed to operate against the dues-paying group of the Socialist party, increased rates of fare on street railway lines, disposition of the proposals to amend the state constitution so as to permit the establishment of an executive budget system and the consolidation of existing departments of the state government, nomination of candidates for judicial office by party conventions, another attempt to repeal the daylight saving law, and, possibly, action on a proposal to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol.

Teachers' Salaries Troublesome Issue.

The bills to increase teachers' salaries probably will cause some trouble, not because there is any difference of opinion among the legislators, but because there has arisen considerable controversy as to the amount of the increase. Two bills were introduced last week, one by Senator Charles C. Lockwood, of Brooklyn, chairman of the committee on public education, and the other by Senator Henry M. Sage, chairman of the finance committee. Both measures were referred to the finance committee, and it is expected that the committee will report out the Sage bill. The Lockwood bill embodies the conclusions reached at a conference of the legislative leaders and representatives of the teachers. It is designed to provide for the levying of a direct tax of one and one-half mills on real property, in order to grant annual increases in teachers' salaries, ranging from $500 in New York city to $250 in common school districts. After the agreement had been reached, a delegation representing parents' associations in New York city came to the capitol and demanded a levy of two mills for the purpose of providing an even greater increase. The next day Senator Sage introduced his bill, which is intended to provide for a tax of only one mill, which would yield an amount sufficient to grant salary increases of $150 a year lower than those fixed in the Lockwood bill.

The soldiers' bonus bills, introduced by Senator Parson C. Swift, of Erie, and Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, of New York, are designed to provide for a referendum next November on a proposal to authorize a bond issue of $50,000,000 to permit the payment of a bonus of $10 a month for each month of service; not exceeding twenty-five.

Repeal of the daylight saving law, so far as the legislature is concerned, will be completed in the assembly just as soon as Assemblyman Charles H. Betts finds seventy-six Republicans present, who, bound by the action of last week's caucus, will vote for repeal. The repeal bill, when passed, will be vetoed by the governor. It is declared, with the result that the state probably will operate under the daylight saving schedule during the present year. Mr. Betts has made two unsuccessful attempts to put the repeal bill through the assembly.

Senate May Favor 2.75 Beer.

In the senate, a second attempt will be made to pass the Walton-Pearson bill, designed to provide for a return to the nominating convention in the case of judicial candidates. The bill, passed by the assembly, lacked the necessary majority in the senate last week, but activity on the part of Republican leaders is understood to have converted enough insurgents to insure the success of the measure when it is called up a second time. An executive veto on this measure is predicted.

Liquor legislation, whether it be of the strict enforcement variety or the liberal brand to legalize beer and light wines, is looked upon as impossible. There is a chance that the senate, during the closing week, may pass a bill intended to permit the manufacture and sale of 2.75 beer, but such a measure, it is generally conceded, will die in the assembly rules committee. Neither house has been able to agree upon which of two enforcement bills should be passed, and con-

BAD WEATHER MARS INITIAL BALL PLAY

Thirteen Postponements in Major League Schedules Result in the Opening Week

New York, April 18. — Inclement weather marred the opening week of the major league baseball season, causing 13 postponements. The Cincinnati world champions latted well and won three straight contests until checked today by Adams of Pittsburgh, who won his second victory. The champion Chicago team of the American league and the Boston Americans each won twice with no defeats.

The National league teams, on the whole, outbatted and outscored the American leaguers, but the latter were staidier in the field. The New York and Chicago Nationals, generally among the leaders, are in the last places.

In the National league, Cincinnati hit Alexander of Chicago freely on opening day and took the next two days, by coupling hits with Cub errors. Chicago lost its fourth straight game today when Alexander failed against St. Louis. Boston tried a rerun, Fayrs, successfully against New York and also captured a 1 to 0 pitcher's battle between Oeschger and Touey. Pittsburgh and St. Louis, the only major teams to play a full schedule, engaged in four hard fought contests, two going into extra innings. The Pirates came out on top three times, Carlson and Ponder each blanking the Cardinals, Brooklyn and Philadelphia shared two games in which 25 runs and 44 hits were made. The Superiors and Quakers continued their hard batting today and defeated Boston and New York, respectively.

Good pitching gave the Chicago Americans two victories over Detroit. Williams struck out eight on the opening day, while Clontze showed good form in Saturday's shutout.

Boston knocked Johnson, Washington's star, out of the box, and also won in a 14-inning contest from the Senators. Babe Ruth failed to aid New York against Philadelphia, his error losing the game. He fanned three times in the next game which the Yankees won. Cleveland and St. Louis split even in two games. Coveleskie whitewashed the Browns on opening day and turned back Detroit today.

DECISIVE ACTION NEAR IN NEW YORK VICE WAR

First Event of Importance Is the Trial of Commissioner Colonel Augustus D. Porter

New York, April 18. — Decisive action in the war between the district attorney's office and the New York police department over the vice situation here is expected this week.

The first event of importance is the trial of Colonel Augustus D. Porter, formerly third deputy police commissioner, who is under indictment on a charge of neglect of duty. Police Inspector Domonic Henry, also under indictment, on charges of neglect of duty in connection with his administration of the fourth (Tenderloin) inspection district, will be placed on trial after the Porter case is finished. Then in regular order will follow the trials of three police detectives indicted as a result of the inquiry.

The extraordinary grand jury which has been investigating charges brought by Inspector Henry against James E. Smith, assistant district attorney, that Mr. Smith bargained with him for the sale of police protection will report this week. The regular March grand jury, which is operating under the direction of Mr. Smith, also will resume its investigation this week.

Detective Thomas Hughes, who was arrested Saturday by department of justice agents on a charge of bribery, was suspended from the police department today. He is alleged to have given a bribe of $1,000 for records from the federal district attorney's office in a liquor violation case.

Two more arrests were made today in a roundup of the Tenderloin district. Mrs. Jeanne L. Gorton, who claimed she is an insurance broker, was arrested by city police at her home in West 11th street, charged with maintaining a gambling house. The police said they found 15 women there playing poker. The waiter in a 5th street cafe was arrested by government agents after he is alleged to have sold them liquor.

MAX ROELZ ARRESTED.

Berlin, April 18. — Max Roelz, the Plauen communist leader, was arrested at Marienhad Saturday, according to an official Czech report and is now in prison at Eger, a short distance from Carlsbad.

sequently, it is believed that there can be no enforcement legislation at this session.

Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara is ready to furnish some excitement in the senate tomorrow night, when an attempt will be made to expunge from the official record charges made by Senator Thompson during debate last week that liquor was used in large quantities in the assembly on the night of the contest over ousting the five socialist members. It is understood that Senator Thompson not only will refuse to retract anything he said last week but that he plans to amplify his previous statements.

STRIKE COLLAPSES AS REBEL YARDMEN GO BACK TO WORK

General Return of Strikers, Without Definite Promises of More Pay in Many Instances, Is Officially Reported from Important Strike Centers

BROTHERHOODS MAY REVOKE MANY CHARTERS

Edict that Strikers Who Did Not Report for Duty Would be Expelled from Union Organizations With Loss of Seniority Will be Enforced

The nationwide railroad strike apparently has collapsed.

Except in a few isolated sections, railroad officials reported last night the bulk of the men who followed the leadership of John Grunau, a Chicago trainman, had returned to work. Normal passenger service was virtually restored, they said, while substantial progress had been made in moving the vast amount of freight that has been accumulating throughout the country, especially in the east during the past three weeks.

Many of the strikers went out without presenting any grievances and later announced that failure to receive increases in wages granted to other railroad men prompted their action. The strikers, who acted in defiance of their railroad brotherhood chiefs, have generally returned without any definite promises of more pay.

In many cases, however, they have been assured their demands will be presented to President Wilson's labor board, which has been empowered under the federal transportation act to settle disputes between the railroads and their men. The board is now sitting in Washington.

Normal Freight Movement Today.

New York, April 18. — J. J. Mantell, chairman of the General Managers association, issued a statement this evening that "by far the greater percentage of the striking railroad employees in the metropolitan district, had reported today for duty." The railroads proceed det noon to fill permanently, he said, the places of men who had failed to report.

Mr. Mantell declared that there was "a substantial improvement in the general situation," and that "the backbones of the strike is broken."

All the roads, he added, will move freight trains tomorrow. Individual reports from the various lines were more optimistic than heretofore. "The Central Railroad of New Jersey announced the strike on that road was over. The men who went out, it stated, will be re-assigned to their own duties and freight would be moved tomorrow. Passenger traffic was reported at normal.

Passenger service on the New York Central was said to be normal, with strikers returning at Ashtabula, Buffalo and Toledo. Three hundred cars of food and 50 cars of newspaper are en route from Albany to New York. During the 24 hours ending at noon, the railroad reported 2,500 cars of merchandise had arrived at the Mott Haven yards which was said to be better than normal. At the Oak Point yards of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, 2,000 cars of freight arrived. All difficulties would be straightened out in 48 hours, the New Haven announced.

Revoke Strikers Charters.

Chicago, April 18. — While the General Managers' association announced tonight indications were that the insurgent strike of railroad employees in the Chicago terminal district virtually had lost its effectiveness, A. F. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said brotherhood officers would meet tomorrow to consider revoking charters of locals whose members refused to return to work last midnight.

Mr. Whitney said the brotherhood edict that strikers who did not report for duty would be expelled from the organization with loss of seniority would be enforced and that the charters of at least four of the 16 brotherhood locals in Chicago would be revoked.

Two charters of Chicago locals already have been revoked by the brotherhood. One was the organization of switchmen on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad of which John Grunau, head of the outlaw Chicago yardmen's association, was a member.

Mr. Whitney said he had received reports that groups of strikers on several railroads returned to work today. "The strike absolutely is broken," he said. "There is no question about that. There are not more than 2,000 men out now. Our plans are now directed toward protecting our contracts with the railroads."

Demand of the Chicago Yardmen's association for recognition as the governing body of switchmen would be futile, Mr. Whitney said, adding the brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has contracts with the railroads, and the Yardmen's association has no chance to gain recognition. There is no place in the service for two sets of contracts. The yardmen represent no one by themselves and the railroad will enter into no contracts with them.

"The strike situation at Chicago Sunday substantiated the improvements which have taken place during the past week," a statement by the railroads said, "and compared with normal conditions. Indications are that the strike virtually has lost its effectiveness."

"Reports received from other points indicate that the strike is rapidly breaking throughout the country. Men have returned at Buffalo, Cleveland, New Orleans and Flint, Michigan."

Buffalo Crews Resume Work.

Buffalo, April 18. — Railroad yards in Buffalo resumed normal operations this morning after a tie up of 12 days. The striking yardmen voted at a meeting, which lasted long after midnight, to return to work, and the first yard crews began reporting an hour after the close of the meeting.

The vote on the question of accepting the agreement reached by union officers and railroad officials was 794 for and 298 against. The men voted by roads and each road except the Nickel Plate gave a majority in favor of ending the strike. The Nickel Plate men voted 23 to 19 in favor of remaining out.

Under the terms of the agreement the men return to work under the same conditions which existed before the walkout. Adjustment of the wage schedules and hours of work is left to the new railroad labor board for decision. Recognition of the new yardmen's association was not made in the peace terms and the local branch of the organization will pass out of existence. The men have agreed to return to the old union for future negotiations with the railroad companies.

The embargo on freight was lifted today and officials of the railroads promised a speedy return to normal conditions.

Dockawanna Heads Returning Crews.

New York, April 18. — Influenced by the Lackawanna railroad engineers, who voted last night to go back to work, the firemen and engineers on both the Lackawanna and the Erie today also voted to return. Only a small minority voted to continue the strike. It is expected that all "out-law" firemen and engineers on these roads will report at the terminals tomorrow morning.

SPIRIT AWAY NEGRO SOUGHT BY LYNCHERS

Black Is Accused of Assault on Six-Year-Old Danville (Kentucky) Youth

Lexington, Ky., April 18. — Lucien Jenkins, 27, negro, charged with assaulting six-year-old White Trimble of Danville, Ky., was rushed to the Lexington jail from Danville early today to thwart a possible lynching at the hands of a mob in Danville.

Jenkins, who, with Keith Phillips, 15 years old, white boy, is charged with kidnapping the Trimble child Friday night, taking him into a corn field and striking him on the head with a hammer, but denies knowledge of the crime. Jenkins was spirited out of the Danville jail last night by officers, while a mob was outside, demanding entrance. The lights in the jail suddenly were turned out and while the place was in darkness Jenkins and the officers escaped. Later members of the mob were admitted to the jail and made a search.

Jenkins' delivery clerk admits having trouble with the Trimble family because of the manner in which delivery of groceries was made.

The town is quiet tonight. The Trimble boy is recovering from a fractured skull.

STEAMSHIP MORSE SINKING.

New York, April 18. — The ship- ping board steamship, E. A. Morse, bound from New York to Genoa, reported by wireless late today that she was in a sinking condition, 500 miles east of Sandy Hook and in immediate need of assistance. The message, received about 3 p. m., which was re-timed here by the naval communication service, said the vessel might be able to keep afloat two or three hours.

LITTLE CHANGE SEEN IN WEEK'S DEALINGS

Developments in Securities Market Correspond With Those of Preceding Fortnight

New York, April 18.—In their relation to the immediate future, developments of the week in the securities market differed in no important particular from conditions of the preceding fortnight. Stock dealings were moderately active, but again of a speculative or professional character. This was evidenced by the prominence of newspaper specialists, whose intrinsic values have yet to receive recognition.

Standard shares of the industrial group were inclined to react for the most part and falls fell into almost obscurity in the absence of bullish initiative or leadership. The railroad strike and money market were outstanding influences, the former by reason of its effect on general business and industries and the latter because it denoted further curtailment of unessential credits.

Much of the week's call money loaned at eight percent, but the comparative ease of demand loans did not extend to time money. Far from evincing any relaxation, bids for such loans were slightly higher, without evoking appreciable responses.

It was thought that the successful flotation of the new Pennsylvania railroad loan on a seven percent basis, might mark the revival of public interest in the investment market, but the trend of the bond list offered little encouragement.

New low records accompanied the almost incessant liquidation of Liberty bonds and victory notes, several of which fell to levels where the interest returned exceeded six percent. Pre-war railroad and industrial bonds of the highest grades suffered correspondingly.

In the international market, the significant features was the advance of the bank of England rate, an event foreshadowed by the rise of French discount. The only effect upon foreign exchange in this market was a halt in the acute decline of French and Italian remittances.

SOLOMON'S WISDOM FAILED HIM ONCE

Tired of Books — But He Had None Such as Now Exist.

The wise Solomon said, "Of making books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh." But was he wise when he said that? We rather think he was very young — perhaps in his school days — because in our time only a school boy would think such a thought, much less say it. The word "book" is a very old word, and has an interesting derivation. It runs through all the Teutonic tongues, and is thought to come from the Saxon word "bech" which meant "beech," the wood upon which the ancient Teutons wrote their runes, or poetry and sacred writings.

The word "write" is directly connected with the word "book," and comes from the German "reissen," to tear, meaning that the letters were cut in the wood, tearing it. Going back to Solomon again, however, had the New Universities Dictionary been possible in his day, he would never have called study a weariness; but on the contrary, a fascinating pleasure. At least all those of our readers who take advantage of the wonderful contribution we are making of that volume call it a treasure. Our coupon offer, published daily in this paper, explains how to get it.

Recognizing the increasing difficulty in securing sugar stocks in order to supply the trade of Oneonta, the undersigned grocers do hereby agree to adopt the policy of caring for the needs of our regular customers first and all transients asking for sugar are expected to make purchases of groceries to the amount of at least one dollar. This policy is to secure an equal distribution of sugar to the trade and prevent so far as in our power lies, the hoarding of sugar.

SCHUYLER LAKE NEWS.

Funeral of Uriah Bentley Largely Attended, Rev. Finch Officiating.

Schuyler Lake, April 18. — The funeral of the late Uriah I. Bentley, which was held from the home Thursday at 2:30 p. m., was largely attended. Rev. A. D. Finch of Sidney officiated, assisted by Rev. D. A. Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Finch sang "Face to Face" and "Abide with Me," favorite hymns of the departed one. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, which showed the high esteem in which he was held in the community. Among the pieces were a basket of spring flowers from the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church and a wreath of carnations from Anna's chapter, O. E. S., of Richfield Springs. The following relatives and friends attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Dever Bellinger, Mrs. Ida Rutner of Utica, Don Hinds of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, Elv Creek, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Rose, Cooperstown, Mr. and Mrs. William Brant, Charles G. Nash of Norwich, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bentley of Bainbridge, C. A. Bentley of Syracuse, Mrs. Earl Brink of Sherill, Mrs. Samuel Downs, Mrs. Louis Craft, Mrs. Kenneth Watson, Charles Ostrander, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGrath of Richfield Springs.

UNADILLA BANQUET POSTPONED.

Annual Event of Presbyterian Brotherhood Takes Place in May.

Unadilla, April 18. — The date of the second annual banquet of the Men's Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church, which had been set for Friday evening, April 23, has been postponed to an as yet undecided date in May. As previously announced, two of the speakers at the banquet were to be Lieutenant Governor Harry S. Walker and Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo, their acceptance in February of the Brotherhood's invitation to attend hanging upon the anticipated adjournment of the state legislature's session prior to April 23, but since it now appears unlikely that adjournment will take place before the week of the 26th, it has been deemed expedient to put the banquet over until an evening in May, to make possible the attendance of the two prominent state officials. In all probability the banquet will be held about the middle of May.

Two Recent Marriages.

Announcements have been received by friends here of the marriage of Harry Louis Pierce and Miss Lula Heber Landmesser at Sayre, Pa., April 8. MRS. JOSEPH ECKLER.

Life-Long Resident of Otsego County Dies at Home in Westford.

Westford, April 18. — Mrs. Joseph Eckler, a life-long resident of Otsego county, died this morning at 10:30 o'clock at her home in this village, aged 85 years. Mrs. Eckler had been ill most of the winter with a complication of diseases, but had been confined to her bed for only a few weeks.

Mrs. Eckler was born in the town of Middlefield, and spent most of her life in this vicinity. When in young womanhood, she married Mr. Eckler, who for over 40 years conducted a farm near this village. About three years ago, he sold the place, and Mr. and Mrs. Eckler came into the village to spend the remainder of their days. Both are highly respected and are held in loving esteem by all in the community.

Mrs. Eckler is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. John Webster of Westford two sons, Edward Eckler of Cooperstown and Frank Eckler of Westford, and by ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. George Williams, pastor of the local Methodist church, of which Mrs. Eckler was a devoted member, will officiate and burial will be in the village cemetery.

NEEDS COMMUNITY SPIRIT.

Otsego Town Nurse Project Abandoned Owing to Lack of Interest.

Otsego, April 18. — The meeting for the purpose of receiving reports from organizations on the community nurse project was held at the High school building Wednesday evening. The only organizations unreservedly in favor of the project were the Odd Fellows and the Red Cross.

Other reports varied. Some could see no real value to be derived from the project, while others reported that because of the pressure of organization demands upon them they were not in a position to give financial aid to a community project.

As a result of these reports it is not deemed advisable to launch the project until the people are able to see its value and demand it for themselves, as they are doing in many rural communities.

It was conceded that while members should be loyal to organization demands, if it were possible for the people of the town to be united in any community project Otsego would be greatly benefited by the community spirit aroused thereby, even if the project were not so great as the one suggested.

Among community projects discussed were the lighting of our village streets and a "clean-up" week for Otsego.

No definite action was taken. It would seem that all that is lacking is someone to take the initiative in each of these.

Well we not all at least show our community spirit by consecrating the second week in May to a general cleaning up of our premises?

This means an individual responsibility on each one of us.

We trust that some one or more of our citizens will endeavor to wake up the community on the lighting question by taking some definite action.

Presbyterian Pointers.

At the meeting of the session last Sunday, the annual narrative was read and adopted and ordered read to the congregation on next Sunday. At the adjourned meeting of the church and congregation held Monday evening, the following action was taken: Services will continue to be regulated by sun time. In the matter of community nurse, it was decided that, as an organization, we deem it inadvisable to back the proposition financially.

New Baptist Officers.

At the recent annual meeting of the Baptist church the following officers were elected:

Trustee for three years, C. E. Morrill; clerk, Mrs. George M. Wall; treasurer, George M. Wall; organist, H. H. Swink; assistant organist, Mrs. B. F. Shepherd; chorister, Mrs. H. H. Swink. Pulpit committee, Warren Wilbur, Mrs. H. A. Hunt, Mrs. William Shepherd, ushers, L. H. Sprague, Geo. Stenson, V. N. Sherman, C. I. Sisson; Sunday school officers, superintendent, Mrs. George M. Wall; assistant superintendent, Mrs. B. F. Shepherd; secretary, Ralph Wilbur; treasurer, Leon Stenson; chorister, Rev. W. A. Sloan; superintendent, Cradle Roll, Mrs. Melvin Olsen.

A Gleaners' meeting will be held Thursday, April 22, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Wilbur. Every member is requested to be present, as there is business of importance to be discussed. There will be conveyances provided.

A FINANCIAL PROPOSITION.

There has been a great deal said of late about the opportunities the American navy affords to see the world, to seek, as Chaucer puts it, "distant strands, and serve in foreign lands," which in one way is doubtless well enough, but there is another viewpoint of naval enlistment which will appeal to the young American possessed of that thrift which to him is proverbially accredited. The navy, says a recent circular sent out by the recruiting stations, offers any young American (age 18 to 25), a practical education and retirement after 16, 20 and 25 years' service. The navy is essentially a dollars and cents proposition. The law enacted in 1915 created a Fleet Naval reserve which allows men to retire after 16, 20 and 25 years' service, on $50.00, $30.00 and $12.00 per month. A man enlists at 18; at 25 he can retire a skilled tradesman with an income of $50.00 per month. The Navy Trade schools are now operating at full capacity and graduating skilled trade and technical men. Eighty-two per cent of the men who recently entered the Hampton Roads training station entered for the purpose of learning a trade.

During the months of January and February 1928 men were graduated as skilled tradesmen. The navy department has recently made an important announcement allowing ex-service men who have been out of the service over four months and less than one year, to be re-enlisted in the rating held at time of discharge. This allows ex-service men to enlist immediately in ratings that, in the past, would have taken them years to receive. The navy department has also announced a foreign cruise, starting in June and ending in September, open to any ex-service man or member of the Naval Reserve force. This cruise will take in the Panama canal, Hawaiian islands and west coast of North America. Reservists who volunteer for this cruise will be ordered to inactive duty promptly upon termination of the cruise.

DISTRIBUTING ARMY RIFLES.

The War department is now engaged on plans for the distribution this year of about 100,000 army rifles to the posts of the American legion throughout the country. Provision was made for the distribution of these rifles, valued at about $2,000,000, by legislation recently enacted by the congress.

In addition to the loan of rifles, the bill provides for the sale to posts of the American legion of "blank ammunition in suitable amounts for said rifles," and further specifies that the rifles be "obsolete or condemned army rifles" and that the number distributed shall not exceed ten such rifles to any one post.

WINTER WHEAT CONDITIONS.

A forecast of the Department of Agriculture places the crop of winter wheat at 483,617,000 bushels, compared with 731,626,000 bushels last year. For the country as a whole, says a recent bulletin of the Guaranty Trust company, the condition was 75.5 percent of normal, compared with 92.5 last year and 81.7 the average for the last ten years. This decline from last December was 30 points. In the great central winter wheat belt the crop condition is very low and considerable deconditioned acreage will be shown, according to reports regarding the crop. The percentage of average condition this year will be reported by the government in May.

SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS A POUND

Liberal Contract Figures Makes Happy Hop Growers Who Haven't Plowed Up.

Along in the early '80's there was a year which has come down in the annals of the hop-growing industry as the dollar-a-pound year. It was ten years when in many sections there was pretty much complete failure, and the market was swept practically clean of old hops, old-oids, and every other sort and description of aged hops. That the present may be another is indicated by an article in last week's issue of the Schoharie Republican, which says:

"Prohibition or no prohibition, over hill, or so beer bill, the hop market this year has started off with a clear unapproached in mid-season in the dark-beer ages and those growers in this vicinity who stood by the hop game are smiling from ear to ear. Seventy-five cents a pound! That is the remarkable price offered on contract to some local growers last week with winter not yet gone. Like the proverbial bolt out of the blue this surprising news came to local growers and while they are tickled at the opening figure they are also undergoing that experience of deciding to sell or to hold. Such a high opening figure argues to them of a still higher figure as the season advances with the apparently not remote possibility of their going to a dollar a pound, or more. We're the moving factors behind this strong market better understood. It would be an easy matter for the growers to gauge the situation. But this price seems almost unbelievable with prohibition an accomplished fact. Of course, there is a good export demand, greater because of the decreased production. And then there is the demand for hops for home brewing, now become a national industry, and the call for hops in making 'near beer.' All these things, it is realized, create a demand for hops, but is this demand sufficient to explain the high price of 75 cents a pound before the growing season has even begun, or is the answer just speculation?" If this last were known to be the reason, selling at once would be the policy but were the demand a reality and as such likely to increase, a steady rising price would likely be the result.

Alike in Otsego and Schoharie, there is not likely to be much plowing-up of yards this year, as those who did so a year ago are said to be well lost opportunities.

DEBATE IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

Two Men's Classes of First Methodist Church Put On Interesting Evening for 50 Men — Judges Decide for Side Opposing Further Restriction of Immigration.

A lively and interesting debate was put on at the First Methodist church Friday evening by the Men's Bible class and the Wesleyan Brotherhood class, concerning the ever-present problem of immigration. The proposition was "Resolved, that immigration into the United States shall be further restricted." The Bible class, which took the affirmative side, was represented by Floyd L. Taylor as leader, F. D. Bennett and William E. Fisk, while the Brotherhood class, for the negative, had on its debating team Raymond Huggins as leader, W. H. Whitney and Ernest W. Bolton.

It was the contention of the affirmative that immigration should be further restricted in order to keep out undesirable. It was stated that most of the trouble today over Bolshevism and other "isms" is due to the fact that our immigration laws have been lax and have allowed all classes and types of people to come into this country.

The negative contended that the present shortage of labor made it imperative that more men be secured to run the vital industries of our country. The only place to get these men, it was contended, was by allowing foreigners to come into this country, as the supply of men in the United States that are willing to do many of the menial, but necessary tasks of our everyday life, is small.

The judges, who were A. L. Judd, Attorney W. H. Johnson and Attorney George L. Rockes, had quite a task to decide which side was victorious but finally came out in favor of the negative, which was against restricting immigration. The debate was followed closely by the 50 and more men present and all were unanimous in the opinion that it was an enjoyable and profitable kind of entertainment.

Following the debate a social hour with refreshments was enjoyed by the men.

Y. W. C. A. DISPENSES ROUGE THAT WON'T COME OFF

THE problem of a summer vacation is solved for thousands of industrial and business girls all over the country by the Y. W. C. A. camps for self-supporting women. "All the comforts of camp" can be had at a minimum price, well within the reach of the youngest girls. Two weeks of swimming, canoeing, tennis, bacon hats and hikes make the fat girls thin and the thin girls fat, and give them all complexions that won't come off. A group of vacationists are shown in the above picture in their outdoor sleeping quarters.

ONEONTA "WET" IN SPOTS

SEVEN MEN ARRESTED OVER WEEK-END FOR PUBLIC INTOXICATION.

One Must Report to Probation Officer. Three Are Fined $8 Apiece, and Three Others Will Appear in Court This Morning—Think Autos Bring Booze into City.

That Oneonta still is "wet" in spots at least, is evidenced by the fact that over the week-end seven men were arrested in an intoxicated condition on the streets of the city. Although all were silent when asked "where they got it," the police department is accumulating evidence which it believes will ultimately disclose what persons are dealing out the stuff that the voters of Oneonta banned two years ago. One noticeable fact is that it has been only since the roads were opened to auto traffic after being snow-bound for several months that drunks have been arrested in the city, leading one to believe that the liquor probably is being brought into the city by auto.

The seven men arrested are "classified" as follows:

Ray Hadsell of this city, arrested Saturday on Chestnut street by Patrolman Brownell. Arraigned before Judge Huntington on charge of public intoxication. Pled guilty. Ordered to report weekly to Attorney Lee D. Van Woert concerning his conduct.

E. F. Moore of Oneonta, Curtis Utter of Harpersfield, and John Moore of Stamford, apprehended at 9 o'clock Saturday night on South Main street by Officers Horton and Stapleton. Pled guilty before Acting Judge Hathaway to charge of public intoxication and were fined $8 each, which they paid.

John Olmstead and Herman Rittinger, both of this city, were arrested on Broad street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Police Chief Horton, and were placed in the jail for the night. They will be arraigned this morning. Rittinger was arrested about three weeks ago on a similar charge and put up a stubborn but useless fight when apprehended. He tried the same tactics yesterday but the officer soon quelled him.

Glenn Wood was found in an intoxicated condition on Main street last evening at 8:30 and was put into the city "cooler" by Patrolman Cross. He will say "Good morning, Judge," with Olmstead and Rittinger this morning.

PRESBYTERY OPENS TODAY.

Several Members of Local First Church Expected to Attend Sessions.

It is expected that delegates from most of the churches in the district will be present at the spring meeting of the Otsego presbytery to be held today and tomorrow at the First Presbyterian church in Worcester. Two sessions are scheduled for today, one at 2 and the other at 7:30. Details of the program were published in last Friday's Star.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Russell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, will be unable to attend the sessions of the presbytery, but A. B. Tobey, an official of the church, will represent the church at the meeting.

In connection with the presbytery meeting are held sessions of the Otsego Presbyterial society, which is made up of the wives of ministers and other church workers, and the following women from the Oneonta church are planning to attend: Mrs. H. D. Alden, Mrs. Clarence Hanford, Mrs. C. A. Hovey, Mrs. George C. Crandall, Miss Mary Abell, Mrs. A. B. Tobey, Mrs. J. P. Elliott, Miss Jennie Kelso, Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Mrs. H. E. Dutcher.

MINSTREL SHOW TOMORROW.

Attractive Street Parade and Matinee and Evening Performances.

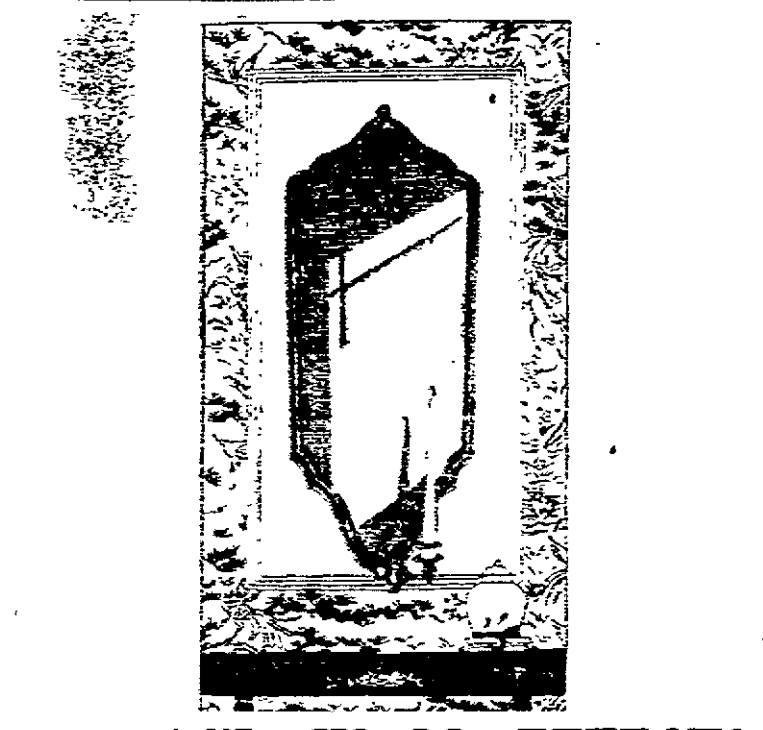

Harvey's Greater Minstrels will make a very attractive street parade introducing several novelties. The wardrobe, consisting of purple and burnt orange. Skinner satin coats with hats to match, presents a very flashy effect, while the trombone work of Slim Austin furnishes comedy in the street. Not all the company participate in the parade, as such people as the stage mechanics, the Octagon Beauty chorus, are busy with the wardrobe and effects.

This company will be at the Oneonta theatre tomorrow, matinee and evening.

Bids for State Highways.

Bids for construction and repair work on various state highways were opened on Friday last at the office of the State Highway commission in Albany. There were bids asked for about thirty pieces of state road but the number of bidders were limited and in some instances no bids whatever were offered and in others the proposals were withdrawn.

In Otsego county proposals were asked for repairs on the Glensville-Morris state road. There was only one bid, that of the Norwich Construction company of Morris, for $22,500, and the same company was sole bidder for repair work in Chenango county, near Norwich. It is probable that the contracts will at an early date be awarded.

Wanakena Coffee Shop Opens.

The Wanakena Coffee shop, conducted by Mrs. Chester A. Miller, in the Burts block, opened very auspiciously Saturday afternoon, when about 100 ladies of the city called in to have tea. On Saturday evening, Mrs. C. H. Dowditch and Mrs. Martha Strong entertained the members of a card club. The coffee shop is a very attractive place to while away an hour or two, and the generous patronage given Saturday indicates that the new venture will be a success. The shop will be open for business as usual this morning, commencing at 11:30.

New Grocery Department.

The Grand Union Tea company opened its new grocery department on Saturday and many visitors were attracted to the store and all complimented the attendants upon the neat and attractive appearance of the rearranged store and the display of first class groceries shown. The company has long enjoyed a liberal patronage for its teas and coffees, and its entering the grocery line will be appreciated without loss by its many patrons. It will be conducted upon the cash and carry basis, which appeals in this day of high prices.

Travelers to Dance.

The tickets have been popular, priced at $1.19 including the war tax.

"Y" DRIVE ENDS TONIGHT

LAST DAY WILL BE BUSY ONE FOR FINANCIAL TEAMS.

Fund Still But Little Over Half Raised — Workers Encouraged by Addresses of Mayor Ceperley and Secretary Walter at Noon-Hour Luncheon Saturday.

With only half of the $7,500 fund raised, the financial teams of the Oneonta Y. M. C. A. will make a final effort today, the last day of the campaign, to influence citizens to open more freely their pocketbooks for a drive that has for its purpose putting the "Y" on the map in this city.

In connection with the local drive, the canvassing teams point out that although Norwich's population is 5,000 less than Oneonta's, the Y. M. C. A. there is "going after" $12,000, and has already raised nearly $10,000. The local workers feel that Oneonta citizens should respond more generally (and generously) to the request for funds, as they have the assurance that every cent will be wisely spent. To put it in Attorney Becker's way, "We've got the man; now give us the money."

The final noon-hour luncheon of the campaign was held last Saturday at the "Y" and was largely attended. An excellent dinner was given by the ladies, and this was followed by a strong inspirational address given by Mayor A. E. Ceperley, secretary of the local "Y" several years ago. Referring to the spirited rivalry that existed between the Athenians and Spartans of ancient days, one city priding itself on its great walls and the other on its soldiery, the speaker urged the army and the navy, the two divisions of the financial campaign, to follow the ancient example and to work hard in an effort to do the greatest good for the "Y" and for Oneonta. He expressed confidence in the ultimate success of the drive and strongly urged the necessity of the funds.

Secretary Walter, of the Chamber of Commerce, was among those present at the luncheon and spoke a few words of encouragement to the workers. He told them not to give up, as the amount sought was small when compared to the importance of the work which, he added, could not be measured in dollars and cents. The young man is the community's greatest asset and the comparatively small sum asked for should and can be raised.

The campaign comes officially to a close this evening, when the captains of the various membership teams will hand in their final reports. For the 21 hours ending Saturday noon, $461 was reported received, bringing the total up to $3,338, which is only a little over half the figure sought. The Navy still was leading the Army, the standings being as follows: Navy, 2,100 points; Army, 1,230 points.

Additional contributions to the fund are reported as follows:

REV. DR. JOHNS WELCOMED.

Delivers Sermon Before United Commercial Travelers Last Evening.

In his sermon before the United Commercial Travelers of the city at the First Methodist church last evening, at the annual memorial services in honor of the one member deceased during the year, Rev. Dr. Johns, taking for his theme the impotent man at the pool of Bethesda, emphasized that Christ was the friend of the unfortunate, the poor, the despised and that he came to minister to them. He cited his work among the Samaritans and the Publicans. He believed in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man upon which your organization is founded.

The speaker commended the work that the Travelers are doing for the widows and orphans and for those unfortunate members who need assistance and declared that they are following the admonition of Christ when he urged his followers to serve their fellows. The world needs such a Christ and men need him. The heart of man is interested in humanity and you will be doing the Master's work to continue your efforts, the speaker said.

The service was well attended by members of the organization and others and close attention evidenced that the sermon was well received.

Rev. Mr. Johns was greeted by a large congregation of his own people, at the morning services to welcome him back to the church for another year. He rewarded them with one of his best sermons and probably at no time in recent years has the church been more united and entering more heartily into the various activities than at present. Both pastor and church are looking forward to one of the most successful years in its history.

NEW ERA CANVASS NEXT WEEK.

First Presbyterian Church Will Raise Funds for Extension Work.

At an informal conference of officials and group leaders of the First Presbyterian church, held last evening, the spiritual and financial aspects of church life were discussed. About 60 members of the church were present at the conference.

The purpose of the meeting was to prepare for the financial canvass to be held from April 25 to May 2 for the New Era Movement. Dr. Russell gave a detailed explanation of the purposes and results that are accomplished from this movement, which is a coordinate and business-like way of carrying out the work of the Presbyterian church at home and abroad. Instead of the church member contributing every now and then for this and that worthy purpose, all is combined, and his donation to the New Era fund goes to provide for all the different classes of church work in the world at large.

The New Era movement was first inaugurated last year and proved such a decided success that in the future it will be the "only way." It should be stated that this movement is a part of the Interchurch World Movement, which is the unified body of all Protestant churches in the country.

Canvassing teams have been organized for the financial fund in the First Presbyterian church and will probably start work next Sunday.

From that city he will sail one week later for Shanghai, China, where he has accepted a lucrative and responsible position with the foreign department of the Standard Oil company. The trip from San Francisco will require three or four weeks with stops among other ports of interest at Honolulu and Manila.

Mr. Gregory has for several years resided at the Plains with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Potter. During his residence here he has made many friends who will congratulate him on the fine opportunity which opens for him in the Far East.

BURIAL WITH ELKS HONORS

FUNERAL OF LATE EARL C. BATES ANNOUNCED FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

One of Best Known and Most Popular Business Men of City—Fond of Outdoor Life—Congenial Companion and Friend.

The funeral of the late Earl C. Bates, of the firm of Lewis & Bates, the announcement of whose death late Friday night after a critical illness of a week's duration caused so many expressions of regret and sympathy, will be held from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bates, Lower River street, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. R. M. Johns of the First Methodist church will conduct the service, the Elks of this city, of which he was an enthusiastic member, will render its burial rites at the grave in the family plot at Plains cemetery.

Born at North Branch, Michigan, August 4, 1882, he came with his parents to Oneonta 24 years ago and two years later he entered the store of Edward D. Lewis to learn jewelry and watch repairing, with which line he has since been continuously engaged. He remained with Mr. Lewis until about nine years ago when the firm of Jennings & Bates was formed. That business was continued seven years, after which it was merged with that of Mr. Lewis, the firm becoming Lewis & Bates, Mr. Jennings accepting a position with them. He has always enjoyed a good standing in business circles.

On September 16, 1905, he was united in marriage with Edith Ward of Oneonta township and to them was born one son, Kendall, now a lad of 12 years. The widow and son named, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bates and three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Pruyn of Holidaysburg, Pa., Mrs. Bertha Case of Pontiac, Mich., and Miss M. E. Bates residing at home survive him.

Mr. Bates was one of the best known business men along Main street. He was an active member of the Oneonta lodge of Elks, of the tent of Maccabees and of the Oneonta Fish, Game and Gun club. He was especially fond of outdoor life and upon a hunting or fishing trip he was one of the most congenial and entertaining companions, as indeed he was in club life or wherever associated with his fellows. Not only in the family circle wherein he was prized as a loving husband, father, son and brother, but in the larger circle of friends and acquaintances also his early death will be deplored. Deepest sympathy will be extended by the community.

DEATH OF MRS. LUCY TAMSETT.

Native of Gilboa But Long a Respected Resident of Oneonta.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Lucy Tamsett, whose death early Saturday morning at her home, 14 Center street, was noticed briefly in The Star of that day, will be held from the residence on Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Rev. D. M. Vail of Clark's Summit, Pa., will officiate, she being a member of the Primitive Baptist church of Oneonta and he being a clergyman of that faith.

Her maiden name was Lucy A. Brewster and she was the daughter of the late Daniel and Lucinda (Stevens) Brewster, her father having long conducted the mill on the Morris road known as Brewster's Mills, where he perfected his buckwheat flour remaining process, which later came into general use. She was born at Gilboa, August 26, 1854, but removed when young with her parents to Ohio. After a few years they returned to New York state and settled at Brewster's Mills, coming later to Oneonta and going from here to Unadilla.

In the latter village in 1878 she was united in marriage with the late Frank Weidman. They continued to reside in Unadilla until 1881 when they removed to Oneonta, since which time this city has been her home. Mr. Weidman passed away in 1896 and in 1902 she married George Tamsett of this city, who died in 1911. Mrs. Tamsett was a member of the Lady Macabees and of the church named above. She was a kind and loving mother and a good neighbor and all who knew her will regret her death.

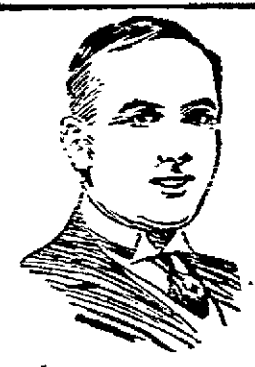

Surviving her are two sons, Harry P. and Roscoe B. Weidman of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. R. W. Rosenthal of Hoboken, N. J.; three grandchildren, Dorothy and Mildred Weidman of Oneonta and Sylvia Rosenthal of Hoboken; also three brothers, Dr. Guy Brewster of New York city, Ohio Brewster of Rome, formerly of this city, and Roscoe Brewster of St. Louis, Mo.

INDUSTRIES IN NEED OF WOMEN

Small and Agile Hands Are Specially Adapted to Certain Work.

MANY EMPLOYED SINCE WAR

They Now Make Watches, Electric Light Appliances and All Kinds of Garments—Many Married Women in the Industries.

Chicago.—"The forewoman has come to stay," says Mrs. Anna Lator Burdick, special agent for trade and industrial education for girls and women, federal board, for vocational education. "The typical watchmaker of the United States is a nineteen-year-old girl. The number of married women in industry has increased 100 per cent since the war. Certain industries are limited in their expansion only by the number of woman employees to be obtained."

In the course of her work Mrs. Burdick meets all sorts and conditions of women. Following are some of her interesting observations of women in industry:

Hands Suited for Certain Work.
"Women's small and agile hands are especially adapted to the work of certain industries. Women are needed in garment and hat work, the hosiery industry and soapmaking. The expansion of the hosiery knitting and garment making industries is limited only by the number of women obtainable."

"Women make and assemble the delicate parts of adding machines, office appliances, Mazda lamps, electric light equipment and appliances. In 1914 five-eighths of the employees of the Wattham watch factory were women. It is surprising to know that the typical watchmaker of the United States is a nineteen year old girl."

"Before the war there was only the foreman in all industries where women were employed. Since the war there are both the instructional forewoman and the production forewoman in all woman employing industries. In the Betts Artificial Limb company, Hammond, Ind., women are admitted to the classes in foreman training along with the men."

SKIRTS OF TWO MATERIALS

Handsomest among sport skirts made of rough silk and heavy satin weaves, are those made by combining two colors, or a plain with a striped or plaid pattern. Georgette crepe is also used in combination with these silks and satins for the upper half of plain skirts. Almost without exception these straight-hanging skirts are gathered at the waist and worn with a girdle made of the silk.

White and deep blue in a rough silk make the elegant skirt shown above. The blue is set in, in bands that are graduated in width and the simulated pockets are in blue. Other colors are used in the same way, with white.

do the set-up work. Certain machines have to be 'set up' to run a job lot through. Formerly a 'set-up' man set up the machine and a woman operated it. The machine got out of order and she raised two fingers as a sign for the set-up man to come. Today women do this set-up work.

"In Milwaukee, Wis., a street car advertisement from some factory which needed woman workers exhibited a picture of a bride, groom and preacher. Underneath were the words, 'Many marriages are made in our plant. Come down and pick out your job.' Then there was a long list of the social advantages accruing to the girl who would work in that factory. Needless to say, the factory did not expect the girl to quit work after her marriage."

"Married women in industry have increased 100 per cent since the war."

"At Grand Rapids, Mich., the furniture factories advertise for housewives who will work at least two hours a day, suiting their own convenience as to when they will come."

Early Rubber Goods Imperfect.

Many were the troubles that early manufacturers of rubber goods experienced on account of the propensity of rubber to expand or contract with the heat. Daniel Webster, who was Mr. Goodyear's counsel in his patent litigation, humorously referred to a fine cloak of India rubber he once owned, stating that in cold weather it stood well by itself, and that he often set it out on the porch surmounted by his hat, many persons passing by mistaking it for the Sage of Marshfield himself.

STILL CLING TO RAG DOLL

Simplest of All Playthings Remains Enthroned in the Heart of Small American Girl.

The old rag doll still retains its supreme seat in the realm of child fancy, despite the invasion of airplanes that fly, bisque dolls that walk, talk and roll their eyes, wireless sets that wire and automobiles that auto, according to Homer Stephens, president of the American Toy Exhibitors, Inc., the New York Evening Telegram states.

"Although we have every form of toy imaginable which can and does please the heart of the child, there is nothing like the old rag doll," Mr. Stephens said. "There were more rag dolls manufactured and sold last year than ever before, and I understand the demand has increased this year."

"All toy manufacturers have inventors who turn out new articles every year. This year's innovation is the popular-priced toy phonograph, which plays any record and costs but a few dollars. Toys this year have been made especially to promote what might be called 'juvenile engineering.'"

"They are built for the purpose of instilling the constructive spirit in the child, and we have found a market for these things even among the grownups."

"But the American child still demands its rag doll."

"Gidnap!"

The Stars and Stripes prophesies that long after the last of the American forces have left France echoes of Yankee vernacular will linger among the French peasantry, and to bear out its prophecy it tells the following story of a good woman at Vouvray, a suburb of Tours, who bought at a sale, conducted by our remount service, a horse with which on the whole she was well pleased. When, however, she had it only a short time a private from the Tours barracks came upon the worried old lady, circling horse and cart in a vain effort to get the beast to start.

"How goes it, madame?" he inquired. "Ah, monsieur, he is a bon cheval, but he understands not the French. How is it you say 'allez' monsieur?" "Voilà, madame," he replied, and took the reins and with a single "gidnap!" urged the horse into action.

"Ah, merci, monsieur, merci!" exclaimed the amazed and delighted woman.

If ten years from now she remembers no more than "gidnap!"—well, that's something.

Some Excitement in Oil Wells.

Competitive drilling plays a great part among wells in a single vicinity because all oil leases leak at the edges, and whether you get your neighbor's oil or he gets yours is largely a matter of speed. Consequently a well in the middle of a large tract is usually let alone by the owner, or, at least, he undertakes further drilling with deliberation, but if he strikes oil near his boundary he drills his borders with all haste, knowing that his neighbor will "offset" his wells, on the other side of the boundary just as fast as he can get the equipment on the ground.—Ray Morris in the World's Work.

Hydrophobia Sufferer Shot Dead.

"MAGIC RING" COST $2,800

Failed to Render Woman Invisible and Seller is Jailed.

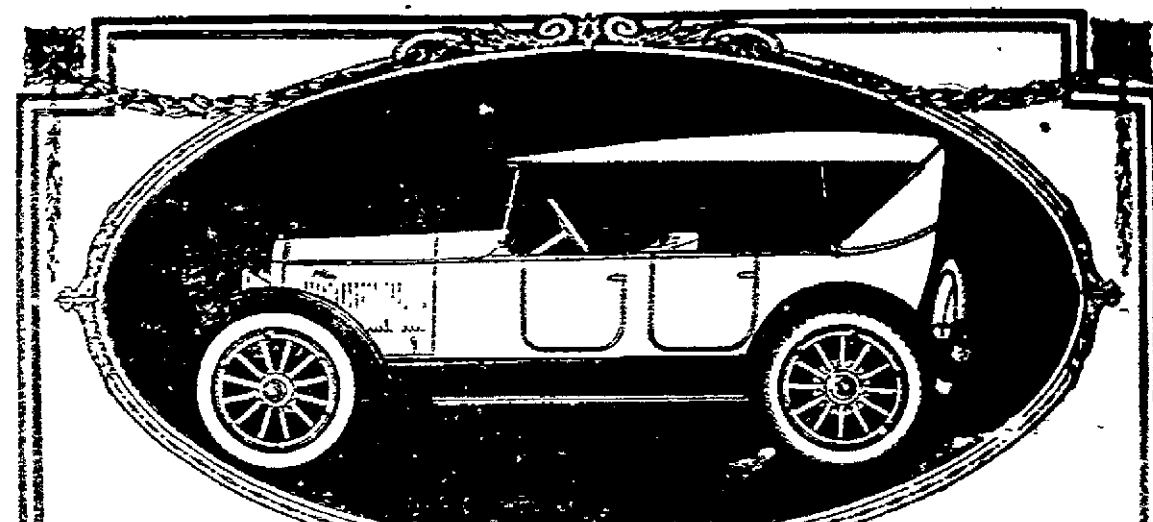

Mme. Durant of Paris, approaching sixty, discovered furrows in her brow about the time she made the acquaintance of one Cosina, who persuaded her to let him try to make her young again. His lotions and manipulations seemed really to have some such effect, for the wrinkles vanished and the lady's complexion became once more fair and rosy.

Looking young, she felt young, and when she met a good-looking army officer, who acted as if he admired her but felt too timid to speak, she consulted Cosina and he had an inspiration. He said he could make her invisible by means of a magic ring and she could thereby be in the company of her soldier and learn his innermost thoughts without his knowing she was there.

She paid Cosina $2,800 for the ring. The officer saw her just the same as before she had it, but she found it had made Cosina invisible when she went to inform him that the charm had not worked. On her complaint to the police Cosina was found. The court fined him $40 and sent him to jail for eight months.

Forests in New England.

The forest area of southern New England is now about 46 per cent of the total land surface. This is equivalent to 1,750,000 acres of forest land, says the American Forestry association of Washington. The area forested is apparently on the increase. In 1910 the forested area was estimated at 41 per cent, in 1850 as 32 per cent and in the Connecticut portion of the territory in 1820 as about 26 per cent.

You are a Stockholder
in the greatest business in the world

YOU are going to do an act this month whose influence will carry around the world.

It will seem a simple thing to you—merely making a gift in the Interchurch World Campaign.

But in Church hospitals all over the country sick people will be made happier, for part of your gift will go to them.

In scores of children's homes supported by the Church more children will have a chance.

In China where there is one doctor to every 400,000 people (America has one to every 712) the Church's medical forces will be strengthened and encouraged.

Babies who might have died

In India where a third of the babies die before their second year, the lives of babies will be saved.

Church schools and colleges will share your gift [half of America's 450,000 students in institutions of higher grade are in Church Institutions].

In preachers' homes where preachers' wives have patched and darned and wetted their work with their tears, life will be happier and better. [80% of the preachers now are paid less than $20 a week.]

These are some of the things your money will do. And this is

What your money will not do

It will not put two Churches where only one should be. The Movement means thirty denominations pledged to prevent duplication and waste.

It will not be spent in useless overhead. At least a million dollars will be saved by the merging of thirty campaigns into one united effort.

Your life will be at work in every land

Whether you are a Church member, or whether you merely contribute, you will put your life to work—through the Church—in every corner of the World. And long after your life is over its influence will survive and serve.

These are the terms in which to think of the Church.

We have thought too long about it in terms of little things. Let us get a picture this month of its world-wide sweep. Let us stop thinking of ourselves as givers of pennies.

We are fellow-workers with Almighty God—stockholders in the greatest business in the world.

BIG FUSS OVER SMALL FOX

Extensive Litigation in Prospect Because of Winter Sport in Dutchess County, New York.

Every sportsman in Dutchess county is interested in a lawsuit over the skin of a fox which already has involved two hunters, two farmers, four lawyers and one justice of the peace, bidding fair to take a trail leading straight into the Supreme court, a dispatch from Poughkeepsie to the New York Evening Sun says.

Reynard was shot and wounded while in woods belonging to De Witt Clinton Flanagan, formerly member of congress. The wounded fox reached the farm of L. C. Hart, where it was discovered by Edward Meade, an employee of Mr. Hart. Meade used a club and dispatched the animal, taking possession of the skin. The two sportsmen demanded possession of the trophy, but this was refused.

One lawyer representing the sportsmen found an ancient law which provided that a wild animal shot by hunters belongs to them whether it is recovered immediately or escapes to other parts.

In a justice's court Meade was arraigned on a charge of having hunted without a license, his weapon having been a club, but he was promptly acquitted.

But the question of the pelt remained unsettled until the justice found a colonial statute which states that whenever a close (inclosed holding of land) is invaded by a predatory animal said animal may lawfully be seized or killed. Under this ruling the fox skin was awarded to Meade.

LAW STEPS IN TO SAVE BRIDE OF ELEVEN YEARS

Man of Forty-Five Is Accused of Taking Girl Wife by Fraud in Tennessee.

Will the brutal "sale" of little Florence Lambert, eleven, to be the wife of Ben B. Zumbro, forty-five, forever harden the girl's heart against love and frighten her from marriage? Charity workers at Nashville, Tenn., confess they do not know.

Her mother doesn't care, she says, and the minister-blacksmith who "married" the two thinks all the agitation "the meddling of people down on us poor folks."

The case was brought to the attention of Litton Hickman, judge of the county court, who, after conference with Attorney General G. B. Kirkpatrick, characterized the affair as one of the most revolting and pitiful he had ever known.

He said he would use every means to prosecute those who had anything to do with forcing the child into "marriage." Annulment proceedings will be started.

As for poor little "Mrs. Zumbro," she says she likes it better in the United States home because her "husband" fussed with her.

Florence, who wears her dresses no lower than her knees and is of childlike face and figure, was "married" by fraud.

She was a ward of an industrial home and was given leave to attend the funeral of her sister. While on this leave her mother, Mrs. Lulu Lambert, signed a marriage license asserting that the girl was sixteen and the "groom" thirty-five. Zumbro, it is said, promised money to the mother.

Rev. W. S. Farbrrough, who says he is a Baptist minister, but "not working at it," "married" the pair in the presence of 20 people.

He believed the license, he says, and didn't notice that the child had all the appearances of extreme youth and wore short dresses.

Zumbro can't be located.

SEEKING LOST MOTHER

Girl Stolen 22 Years Ago Making Effort to Locate Parent.

A three-year-old girl, stolen from her mother 22 years ago in New York by a woman from a circus and reared by her kidnapper without learning the circumstances of her birth, is now grown and married and has just learned her life story. In the hope of finding her parents she wrote a letter to the New York bureau of missing persons. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir: I am writing you for a little help in trying to locate my sister and brother. I am the missing person, and it was around about 1908 I was taken away from my mother by a circus woman."

"I have never seen my mother, sister or brother from that day to this. I have only just learned about myself through the girl who took care of me, but she can't remember if my name is Wright or Knight."

"Now, if you can locate Charles Knight, or Wright, who has a missing sister, Susie, he ought to know. I had a sister, Pauline, also. I was known on the stage as Zella Earl up to five years ago, then I married."

The letter is signed by Mrs. William T. Pickard, of Tonawanda, N. Y.

Polar Ice.

In the region around the south pole, Sir Ernest Shackleton found various kinds of ice to which he gives interesting names in his new book, "South." Thus one kind he pictures as "young ice," another as "light pack," another as "drift ice." Heavy hummocked pack and close pack are the roughest in appearance, with ragged little crags covering all the surface.

YANKEE WOMAN ARAB CAPTAIN

Red Cross Worker in Palestine Has Regular Commission.

CARRIES SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

Appointment Given Recognition of Her Ability in Organizing the Work of the American Red Cross for Damascus—Tells Interesting Story of Her Experiences With Orientals—Takes Charge of Orphanage.

An American woman for the first time in the history of Palestine, has recently been appointed a captain in the Arab cavalry. She is also the first and only woman to receive such recognition from any oriental government.

Mrs. Anna L. Fisher of Santa Barbara, Cal., is the little woman who has thus been uniquely distinguished. With her appointment to the Arabian army goes a very unusual privilege—the right to wear the dress, a strikingly picturesque costume, of "one attached to the royal household." With her rank of cavalry, the Portland Oregonian says, she was also given a beautiful Arabian mare, the personal gift of the emir.

Mr. Fisher's appointment is in recognition of her ability in organizing the work of the American Red Cross for Damascus. This brought her into constant touch with the Arabian officials, and when at the end of the war the Red Cross completed its work in Damascus the new Arab government asked that she be left behind and assigned to detached service with the Hedjaz government.

It was in February of 1919 that she was sent from the United States as a member of the Red Cross commission to Palestine and was finally located at Damascus to take charge of an orphanage for Armenian refugee children who had been saved by the English from torture, starvation and death at the hands of the Turks.

There were 300 Armenian refugee children from three to fifteen years of age gathered in the orphanage, so called. It was located in a small country town in the suburbs of the city. When Mrs. Fisher took charge she found the home lacked about everything an institution of the kind should have to make it comfortable, but principally like most oriental dwellings, it needed water. But water, Mrs. Fisher in genuine American fashion made up her mind, was one thing she must have first of all.

Sex Causes Trouble.

A couple of days afterward oriental workmen were on the job, but they had never pictured a woman in the role of master, much less tried it in actual practice. Referring to the ensuing day Mrs. Fisher says: "I had untold trouble."

"Take my master plumber. He was a most extraordinary person, wearing a fez at an extreme and picturesque angle on the back of his head, a heavily embroidered short jacket, a brilliant embroidered shirt and baggy trousers, but, despite all this finery, he was barefooted. Even his eyelids were rouged and his lower eyelids darkened. He possibly was the first oriental to realize that a woman in command might be a serious proposition. Had he not been a really hard worker I never could have stood his constant reiterations that Allah was his father, I was his mother and that food would not pass his lips or sleep come to his eyelids until his work was done."

"The oriental mind could not fathom why I needed water, particularly in such large quantities. After going through an endless chain of officials I managed to get to the minister of public works, who granted me permission to have 2,000 gallons of water a day and sewerage connections with the main pipes in the street. Then came the question of finding a tank. The director of public works solved the problem by lending me one that belonged to the government, but it would only hold 740 gallons. After many trials, fortunately as amusing as irritating, I succeeded in getting all the plumbing in, after the English had delegated a captain of engineers to help me."

"My first glance at my official family at the orphanage was enough to give me the horrors."

Children Are Afflicted.

"It was my initial contact with scabies, the scourge of the East. Fully half the children were afflicted."

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet, placed in the drinking water, will positively save your little chicks from all such diseases. A single dose of 25 hours the chicks will be as lively as ever. Avicol keeps them healthy and makes them grow and develop.

Mrs. Vannie Teachers, R. F. D. 3, St. Paul, O., writes: "I had 21 chicks and they all died but 32. Then I commenced on Avicol and haven't lost any since. They have grown wonderfully."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and cures white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, let us and your money will be refunded by return mail. A box is sold by most druggists and poultry stores. Or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Parrett-Parker Co., Inc., Columbia, Md., Indianapolis, Ind.

AVICOL stops chicks dying with it some in extremely virulent condition, and scarcely more than six of the whole 300 were normal. They were, in charge of Armenian volunteers in much the same condition.

"Seeing the children's condition, I decided to have disinfecting rooms which would communicate directly with the street, without allowing any child to come directly into the house until cleaned up. Under this arrangement the children were brought into a receiving room where there were in attendance nurses, aids and doctors. The children were stripped, shaved, given a disinfecting bath, wrapped in sheets and then examined by the doctors. The condition of the children determined their clothes, as I used a color scheme for telling the different diseases with which the children were afflicted. Dark blue clothing denoted normal, healthy children. Pink was for youngsters with skin diseases; light blue signified diphtheria or trachomatous diseases, while yellow designated contagious."

"The children's beds—many of the poor things had never seen such luxuries before—were likewise designated by colors."

"The mental condition of the orphans when I took over the institution seemed almost hopeless. They had been through such unspeakable horrors that in many cases they were mentally un sound, and these children were usually ringleaders of trouble. It took a firm hand to deal with them, but after a few evidences of strict discipline there was little trouble."

Light Failure Startles.

"Any unexpected happening at the orphanage, however, always caused mental demoralization. One night, just at bedtime, all the electric lights in the house went out suddenly. Just as suddenly one of the girls screamed, and pandemonium broke loose. I set out alone for the English army headquarters, from which I returned shortly with three 'Dummies' and a corporal. The confidence of the children returned at once."

"The next day English officers called, talked the matter over and decided to give the orphanage a permanent guard at the gate all day and five guards on the roof at night."

"Within a week after we had our water supply at the orphanage in running order, although most of the children had never before been accustomed to regular bathing in their lives, the trouble was not to keep them sufficiently bathed but to avoid more than two baths per hour per child!"

The American bubble fountain I had installed in the courtyard for the children to drink at were an endless joy."

"As soon as I learned to know the children and to judge of their characters, I instituted a plan of self-government. A body of twelve policemen was formed, with a chief of police. They wore on their breasts a large red cross with embroidered white letters 'O. P.'—Orphanage Police. It was their duty to settle any minor disputes unless things became too serious, when the culprit was brought to me."

War Disability.

Although Modern Medicine credits medical science with having accomplished wonders during the late war in eradicating or reducing diseases that have previously ravaged fighting armies, it maintains that disabilities resulting from the war are due in more cases to disease than to wounds. Figures compiled by the English ministry of pensions show that of all the pensions granted down to September 1, 1918, 38 per cent were on account of disease. Tuberculosis and chest complaints were responsible for 11.2 per cent, rheumatism for 6.5 per cent and heart disease for 9.9 per cent. Only incomplete figures are available concerning American experience, but of 7,710 cases dealt with by the federal board of vocational aid to January 31, 1919, by far the greater portion were due to disease.—Youth's Companion.

Clever Work.

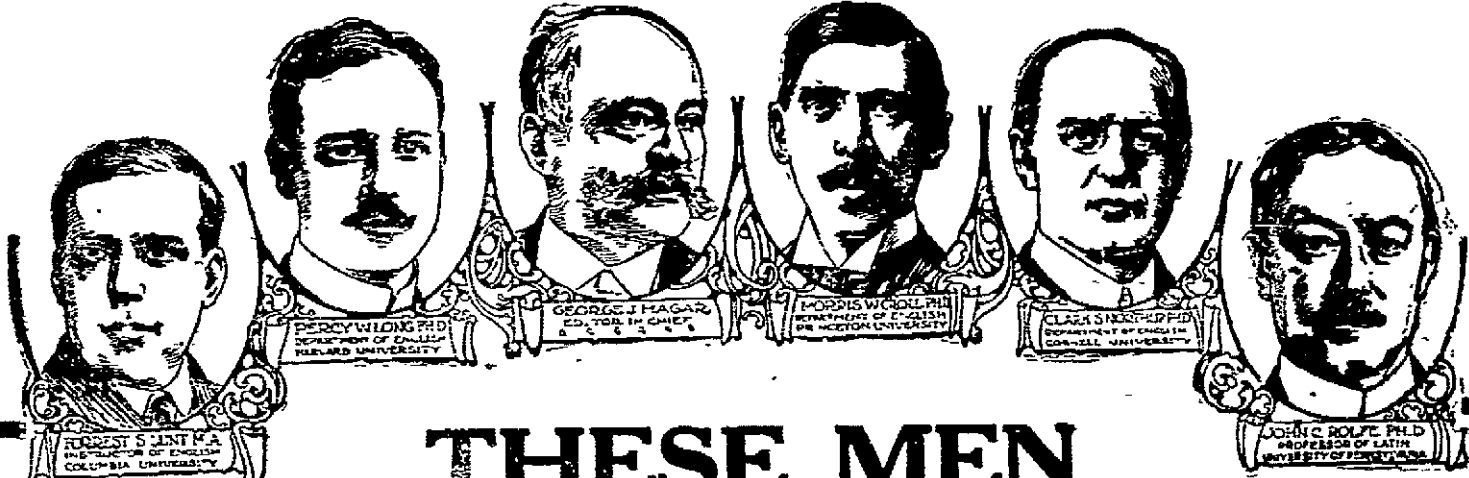

The pupils of the second grade had been given a test in writing, and after it was over, the teacher requested them to take their copy home to show to their mothers.

The verse which Dwight had written was: "Little drops of water, Little grains of sand," etc.

His mother examined his work and praised his effort. "But what is this little word dog doing up here in the corner?" she asked.

"Oh," explained Dwight, "I forgot how to make a 'd' and had to write dog to find out."

The Aftermath of Flu

This is No. 1 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Your doctor will impress upon you that following recovery from the active stage of influenza, there often remains an inflamed, congested condition of the air passages—throat, larynx, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Frequently the cough hangs on—soreness of the chest persists—you take cold easily and there may be obstinate catarrh. This condition is slow to clear up and if neglected may favor the development of pneumonia, or later on, serious disease of the lungs.

Such cases should continue under the care of their physician—should exercise moderately in the open air—eat plenty of wholesome food—avoid overwork and sudden chills.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub may help nature to complete the process of repair. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vick Chemical Company, 231 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

REV. WILLIAM CASE CLAIMED

Aged Christian Pastor, Beloved by Large Circle of Friends, Dies at Home in West Oneonta.

West Oneonta, April 18.—The death of Rev. William Case occurred this (Sunday) morning at his late home in this village. His death was due to the infirmities of old age, he having been in failing health for several years, and for the past three years had been confined to his bed.

Rev. Case was born at Bethel, Mass., Oct. 27, 1852, the son of Aaron and Lucretia (Parker) Case. He was the youngest and last surviving of a family of seven children. His first wife was Martha A. Drake to whom he was married in 1874. After her death, he married Emily Allen of Laurens, who died about ten years ago. He had been tenderly cared for the past eight years by his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Fletcher. He is survived by the niece and four nephews, all residing in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, except the above named.

Mr. Case was converted when 17 years of age and began preaching in his twenty-fifth year. He was ordained in 1875 and from that time had until too feeble to do so, faithfully preached the Gospel of Christ for the Christian denomination. In his youth, he came to New York state to study and had since made it his home. He was pastor for several years of the First Christian church of Oneonta, also pastor of Quaker Street, Milan, Laurens, Portlandville, and many other places. His life was an inspiration and help to a large circle of friends. During his early ministry, Rev. Case was a member of the Odd Fellows.

The funeral will be held at the Free Baptist church of West Oneonta Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, his former pastor and friend, Rev. Edward Francis, a retired Christian minister, officiating. Burial will be in the West Oneonta cemetery.

SUICIDE AT MASONVILLE.

Mrs. Orvid Dean Cuts Throat Sunday Morning While Dressed.

Unadilla, April 18.—Edith, wife of Orvid Dean, a prosperous farmer of Masonville, residing about two miles east of that village, committed suicide Sunday by cutting her throat with a razor at about 6:30 o'clock that morning. Her husband and herself had arisen at about the usual hour and the former had gone to the barn in preparation for the milking. As she did not bring out the pails as was her usual custom, Mr. Dean went to the house and found her lying dead on the floor of the kitchen. Dr. Rogers of Masonville was summoned, and as Mrs. Dean was known to have suffered previously from acute mental attacks, no inquest was thought necessary. She had a good home, the family was prosperous and her children all resided in the immediate neighborhood, and no other reason than temporary insanity could be given for her act.

The deceased was 61 years of age and is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Walter Bistow; and three sons. The funeral will be held at her late home at noon, standard time, on Tuesday, April 20, and interment will be in the cemetery at Sidney. Rev. A. D. Holmes will be the officiating clergyman.

Veteran of Rebellion Dies.

The body of Joseph Page, a veteran of the Civil war, who died at Middleville, Herkimer county, on Friday last, was brought to Unadilla today and interment was at noon in the village cemetery. The bearers were members of the George Bell post, American Legion, and the service was conducted by Rev. Yale Lyon. The deceased was over 80 years of age and is survived by one daughter, Miss Bertha Page, of Sidney.
